

ACP Reporting Made Simple

We Make Affordable Connectivity Program Audit Reporting the Easiest Part of Your Day

Are you supporting the new Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP) FCC initiative to help families and households struggling to afford internet service during the COVID-19 pandemic? Eligible households can receive a discount of up to $30 per month on broadband service and is limited to one monthly service discount and a one device/one-time discount up to $100 per household. Millions of households have already signed up for the new program with more than 35 million households potentially eligible.

You Have Reporting Needs and OpenVault Can Help

As a broadband provider, furnishing audit reports ensures to the FCC that those receiving this new benefit actually have usage and are not fraudulent accounts. For OpenVault, with our unique, cloud-based visibility into broadband provider networks and subscriber usage at the granular level, we make accurate report generation a snap.

ACP Reporting Includes:

- MAC Addresses
- Billing Account
- Usage by Month: upstream, downstream, and total
- Data repository providing multiple years of history

Ask us how we can easily generate the audit reports you need to offer this essential benefit to subscribers in your service area.
